

The proposed legislation to reverse the Indiana "no-call" list is not in the public's best interests and I am personally appalled that these banking institutions wish to have the right to harass me in my own home. If I want their services, I know where the local branches are!